Another Whippet Achievement Canada-to-Mexico, averaging

29.3 miles per gallon of gasoline
29.7 miles per hour
1845 total miles traveled
62 hrs. 8 min. total driving time

Driven by a representative of the Automobile Club of Washington, an absolutely stock Whippet Sedan left the Canadian border at 8 a.m. Friday, October 1st, for Mexico.

All conditions of traffic were encountered—storms in Oregon—fog in the Sierras—snow in the high mountains—city traffic—desert heat—traveling over the poorest of dirt roads and the very finest of pavements—never exceeding the speed limits—driving as you would drive.

Without mechanical adjustment of any kind, the Whippet arrived in Tia Juana, Mexico, at 2:17 p.m. Tuesday, October 5th, indicating the definite superiority of Whippet construction.

$695 WHIPPET SEDAN
Other Whippet prices: Coupe $655
Touring $645, prices f. o. b. factory.

Prices and specifications subject to change without notice. The Whippet Finance Plan offers unusually attractive credit terms. Write Overland, Inc., Toledo, Ohio.

Too Many Go to College Says Head of Williams

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Nov. 17.—A college which admits every young person who desires to enroll as a student is not doing its duty, according to the head of Williams College, Dr. Harry A. Garfield, president of Williams College, and former U. S. Fuel Administrator during the World War.

Dr. Harry A. Garfield

"A college which admits every young person who desires to enroll as a student is not doing its duty," said Dr. Garfield, who is president of Williams College, and former U. S. Fuel Administrator during the World War. "There is the opinion of Dr. Harry A. Garfield, president of Williams College, and former U. S. Fuel Administrator during the World War. 'Obviously,' continues Dr. Garfield, 'many students in college today should not be there. They are wasting their own time and that of those of greater intellectual ability who are held back in the classroom by the presence of slower students.'

"Colleges are being forced to become more and more highly selective in their choice of students. At Williams we have been constantly raising our standards until today only the 'cream' of the high school and preparatory graduates are admitted. While it is desirable for young persons of college age to get as much education as possible, all of them are not of the ability which a college or university must require if from the gridiron, raises the game themselves or offend a very valuable friend.

Hence the senatorial rage.

Hears Reports
Representative Fish went a step further. He declared he had heard that some congressional secretaries were in the market, buying and selling tickets to the game.

"Certain reports have come to me," said Fish, "indicating that there have been violations of the rule under which tickets have been sold by congressional secretaries without the knowledge of their congressmen. I am now considering the introduction of a resolution, as soon as the house convenes, calling for a congressional investigation of the ticket distribution."

SPECIAL RATES TO PREVAIL FOR THANKSGIVING

Railroads Operating Through Marion Announce Plan of Reduced Fares

Special rates on railroads operating through Marion will prevail during the next few weeks, according to announcement made today.

Reduced fares on account of Thanksgiving Day are scheduled on the Hocking Valley from Nov. 21 to 23. Between all points on the Hocking Valley, one fare will pay for a round trip ticket on all trains providing the person using the train goes on Nov. 21 or 23 and returns Nov. 25 or 26. In case the traveler leaves Nov. 24, and does not return until Nov. 28 or 29, a fare and one-half fare will pay for the round trip.

The Hocking Valley is offering the special rates to accommodate those who wish to take advantage of the holiday and visit friends in nearby cities.

Special fares have also been announced for those who wish to attend the Cleveland Junior Live Stock Show, held in that city Dec. 6, 7, 8 and 9 in the public auditorium. The Big Four will carry Marion passengers to that event.

The Chicago Live Stock Show, held Nov. 28-Dec. 4, will also feature special railroad rates on all railroads. The Erie is the road leading to Chicago from this city.

Repair Crossing

Hocking Valley workmen today were repairing and relining the W. Center-st crossing for the third time within the last few months. It is hoped that the present treatment will remain in effect until after the winter months.

The heavy traffic over W. Center-st crossing has necessitated repair work on several occasions as has the traffic over the Pennsylvania crossing on the same street.

Both railroads have kept up the repair work well during the summer and little complaint has been filed concerning the condition of the crossings.

Install System

The Marion Steam Shovel Co. is installing a drainage system along the Hocking Valley tracks directly beneath the eaves of the building between W. Center-st and the Erie tracks.

The construction of this system will greatly aid the Hocking Valley in taking care of the excess supply of water which floods the tracks in that vicinity during every heavy rainfall. Early in the summer, the Hocking Valley installed a drainage system along one side of the double track but did not place a line on the property of the Steam Shovel Co.

Behind the Screen

THOMPSON AND LINA, dressed in the latest fashion, were the latest to appear in the contract. They were having a meeting with considerable success in the stage piece, "Topsy and Eva," and are going to make a film version of it for

United Artists as the first of a series of pictures.

Vivian Duncan plays the dainty, angelic "Eva" and Rosetta, the hoyden, "Topsy." As soon as the script is finished they will start work in Hollywood. Meanwhile they are continuing to appear on the stage.

Musical comedies with a little more ing over frequently form the basis for a good movie. Colleen Moore starred in "Sally," "Sally," "Topsy and Eva," and "Kid Boots," and among the more recent motion pictures adapted from musical shows.

Gloria Swanson has to undergo an operation—but it will only be a "trial" operation—in a scene in "Foggy" for United Artists picture. Two real surgeons with assistants and nurses from a New York hospital will be used to lend an air of reality when the scene is shot.

Neil Hamilton has been loaned by Famous Players to Fox Films to play the part of the aristocratic Beverly Cruger in "The Music Master," the story that was a sensation ten or fifteen years ago when David Warfield toured the country in it. Helene, the daughter, will be played by Lois Moran and Alec B. Francis has been cast in the role made famous by Warfield.

In "Love O' Women" Blanche Sweet appears as a dance hall girl who loses her lover to a society leader. The conflict which ensues gives Miss Sweet her opportunity for more emotional acting that she has had in any part since "Anna Christie."

After making two side-splitting versions of the life of a sailor, namely:

Three-Day Colds Threaten Lungs

A cough or cold that hangs on after the third day is a threat.

Do something! Don't wait until the cold has run its course—from your head to your throat—from throat to chest or bronchial tubes. Break up your cold before it settles in this "danger zone"; for inflammation spreads, and your bronchial tubes load directly into your lungs!

Quickly and unflinchingly, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral goes straight to the seat of trouble. With the very first swallow you feel its comforting warmth. You feel its soothing, healing powers reaching deep down into your bronchial tubes. You feel it penetrating through and through the irritated membranes.

This healing medication, absorbed into the membranes themselves, breaks up the cold, stops the cough, brings prompt and lasting relief.

If you are catching cold; if you have a "head cold"; if your chest is tight; if you have a cough—even if bronchitis has developed—Ayer's Cherry Pectoral at once!

Cherry Pectoral is pleasant, safe and dependable—for children and grown people. At all druggists. 60c; twice as much, $1.00. 24x24

Have you tried the New Energee DETONOX Gasoline?

MOTORISTS who have tried the new Energee DETONOX Gasoline, introduced Monday by The Pure Oil Company, realize that it has set new standards of motor performance. Backed by thirty years' experience in petroleum refining, Pure Oil chemists and engineers have finally perfected a motor gasoline with all of the wanted qualities.

Energee Gasoline, marketed for years by The Pure Oil Company, is favorably known as a premium motor gasoline and well worth the few cents more it costs.

The new Energee DETONOX Gasoline is even better. It has all of the good qualities of the old Energee—plus. You will find it superior to any other motor fuel now available. Yet it is no higher in price than the old Energee Gasoline.

Why Energee DETONOX is a superior gasoline:

[1] Non-detonating. Energee DETONOX eliminates detonation, that too-sudden explosion of certain elements found in ordinary gasolines. Detonation racks your motor and causes loss of power. You recognize it when your car knocks or "pings." Energee DETONOX is a non-detonating gasoline which at the same time retains all other desirable qualities of a motor fuel.

[2] Instant Starting. Energee DETONOX Gasoline gives touch-and-go starting, even in the coldest weather. Never before has there been a motor fuel requiring so little use of the choke. That means less dilution of oil in your crankcase, less carbon, less drain on your battery and a saving of gasoline. Energee DETONOX fires quickly because it vaporizes quickly and completely, in any weather.

[3] Lightning Acceleration. It is under trying traffic conditions that Energee DETONOX Gasoline again proves its worth. In this new motor fuel there is ready speed to pass the trolley or to swing ahead—quickly and safely—into that open space further up the line. Pick-up power in the pinches with Energee DETONOX. Just try it.

[4] Giant Power. For the steep hill, the heavy load, the long drag, Energee DETONOX Gasoline will give you the power you need. And smooth power, too—more like the steady urge of steam than the vibrating blows of ordinary gasoline.

[5] More Miles. You will get more miles per gallon with Energee DETONOX. And without sacrifice to quick starting, too.

[6] Clean Burning. Energee DETONOX Gasoline burns cleanly because it vaporizes completely into the correct dry mixture for maximum power. This new motor fuel hinders harmful carbon deposits.

[7] A Pure Product. Energee DETONOX is not a "blended" gasoline, neither does it contain casing head gasoline. It will not corrode your motor. It is pure gasoline with nothing added except a harmless red coloring matter for identification and your protection against substitution. The non-detonating characteristic of Energee DETONOX Gasoline is due to a special Pure Oil Company refining process only.

MAN ARRESTED HERE TAKEN TO REFORMATORY

Returned to Mansfield Institution to Complete Unfinished Term

William Corey, 26, held at the city prison here since his arrest Saturday and his alleged confession to having broken the seals on two Erie freight cars at Slick's siding, east of Marion, in an attempted robbery, was taken to Mansfield today to complete a term in the Ohio Reformatory, from where he was paroled on Oct. 1. Officials at Mansfield were notified of the arrest at once and today Superintendent Jenkins of the Reformatory came here to take charge of the prisoner.

Corey was captured near Slick's siding Saturday afternoon by Capt. Tabler and Lieutenant Carlin of the Erie police force after they had received a report that two cars in a freight train had been found with the seals broken. Shortly after being taken into custody, the officers state, Corey confessed that he had tried to break the cars while they were standing on the siding Friday night but that the train had pulled out before he could finish the job.

Not knowing about Corey's prison record, the Erie officers brought him to the Marion police station with the intention of filing a charge of attempted burglary against him. When local police recognized him as a former prisoner here and investigation showed that he was a paroled inmate of the Reformatory, it was decided to have the case of a trial by requesting his return to the Mansfield institution.

The records here disclosed that Corey was arrested by local police on April 20, 1924, on an automobile theft charge in Kenton and that he was given a sentence of from one to seven years in the Reformatory after trial in the Hardin County court. He had served 12 months of this term when paroled.

Corey has no fixed place of residence, police say, but records show that he has a sister living in Cleveland.

IMMUNIZATION WORK IS ENDED IN THREE SCHOOLS

Health Commissioner Preparing To Begin Treatment in Other Buildings

With diphtheria immunization at Lincoln, Pearl and Greenwood school buildings completed in connection with Schick testing being conducted throughout the city, Dr. W. J. Weiser, local Health Commissioner, is now preparing to start the work at the other schools. It is likely that the health official will next visit schools in the north section of the city, where two children died of diphtheria recently. No signs of other cases have been developed in that locality and there have been no exposures to create a dangerous situation, but Dr. Weiser has decided that this section of the city should be given his attention as a matter of precaution.

Approximately 400 pupils at Lincoln, Pearl and Greenwood buildings received the Schick test this year. This number included those tested and immunized in 1925, the first year that the Schick treatment was administered in the schools here. That the treatment proved effective last year has been indicated by the fact that all but about 15 percent of the children given the serum at that time were found to be immune when tested this year.

Dr. Weiser completed his work at the three school buildings following his return from Columbus, where he attended the annual convention of Ohio Health Commissioners last week. He states that it was the consensus of opinion at the convention that further immunization should be carried on in the schools in connection with the campaign against diphtheria. There is probability, it is indicated, that an effort will be made to start anti-typhoid fever immunization to the program here in 1927.

The older picture is of a class which Selanders taught at Waldo, south of Marion, a few years after he started teaching. He was principal of a two room school at Waldo. He had the only or group of students, of which there were 21 who appear in the picture. At the Central Junior High school his commercial class consists of 35 students.

Marie Toasts Wild West Photographers of Chicago at Farewell Dawn Banquet

A BOARD Queen Marie's Special Train in Chicago, Nov. 17—A great American institution, the photographer, was toasted by a place in the heart of the city.

"I have to be a photographer," declared Queen Marie of Romania at a farewell supper which lasted until a few hours before dawn.

"They are matters in doing their job, even as I feel sometimes I am in doing mine," said the queen.

"They climb down from their tripods, they lean over their cameras, they look through their lenses and are a burden at times, but I love them because they are so brave."

Answer With "Shots"
The "wild west" cameramen of Chicago, acknowledged the tribute by firing an extra barrage of gunflashes when Queen Marie departed at noon aboard her special train for Indianapolis.

Princess Ruma and Prince Nicolas, the royal motor funds, could not withstand the lure of the train to Indianapolis. They left at 9:50 o'clock this morning and planned to visit Culter Military Academy in Indiana along the way.

The early morning banquet given her majesty by Mr. and Mrs. Ira Nelson Morris was the final feast in honor of royalty's four-day visit here which has left behind it deep scars in the Chicago social world.

All Out for Opera
There are many in the social register of the Windy City who were not invited to meet Queen Marie. Some of those overlooked by the Cleveland, Nov. 17—Carl Studer, upon whom a federal subpoena will be served within the next few days, at the state penitentiary in Columbus, where he is serving a term for violation of vice laws, will be brought here soon and questioned in the hope of getting evidence against the principals in alleged liquor and narcotic rings which operated at Canton.

"I intend to question Studer also as to what he knows about the activities of Morris Nadel and Theodore Abby," declared United States District Attorney A. E. Bernstein here today.

Nadel is being held as a material witness against Pat McDermott, indicted for the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher. Abby is in custody on a narcotic charge. Bernstein indicated that he hopes to get sufficient evidence from Studer to enable him to trace the workings of the alleged conspiracies, ramifications of which Bernstein believes, have extended from Cleveland to Pittsburgh.

Queries As To What Part Does Faulty Coaching Play In Grid Results

BY NORMAN E. BROWN
CLEVELAND, Nov. 17.—I passed up the big eastern game last night to take in the "Big Ten" game between Ohio State and Michigan at Columbus—a game that was staged before a prize attendance of more than 100,000.

And even since that game I've been trying to figure out just how much poor play work by the coaching staff played in that game—and plays in any other grid battle, where astute coaching for months before such a game and quick thinking during such a conflict might have changed the result of the contest in question.

Ohio State lost the game 17 to 10. The defeat can be attributed without fear of criticism, to two things—failure of the coaching staff to install so firmly in the minds of every player the most important rules of procedure that he will not err in a crisis, and poor judgment in the handling of the varsity members and the general conduct of the game.

State Dazzles Michigan
Ohio State took the lead in the game early in the first quarter with a touchdown, goal from field. The Columbus team took Michigan off its feet with a diversified attack and an air of confidence that brooked no check.

Then, with the 10 points in the bag the team suddenly changed tactics and played a sane, careful, orthodox game. Trick plays and passes, which started the early scores were put on the shelf. The fact that this change of pace continued in the second quarter would indicate that it had the sanction of Coach Wiley and his aides. Taking advantage of this, Michigan opened up an aerial attack not long of track plays that quickly cut down the lead and then enabled Michigan to tie the score.

Despite the earlier change in the game's complexion Ohio State retained its conservative style of play through the third quarter. It was not until Michigan had taken the lead, 17 to 10, in the last period that the State changed back to its first style of play—dash, dash, varied plan of offense. And that style again carried the team to a touchdown. But for the failure of Coach Wiley to back the lead after the touchdown, the game would have ended in a tie.

Why Was Eby Saved?
In addition to his apparent poor judgment in the conduct of the game the question was raised as to the reason for retaining on the ap-line through more than half the game the man who was mainly responsible for the comeback of State in the last quarter.

Byron Eby, brilliant open field runner, passer, and defensive man, was kept on the sidelines until after the beginning of the second half. Eby, Marek, another back field star, was permitted to start the second half with a broken hand. It was he who paved the way for Michigan's winning touchdown. Michigan pointed to Marek near his own goal posts. Marek, who had been hurt, was forced to go to the ball bound over the goal line. It took a lateral bounce, however, and started to roll toward the sidelines. Then Marek lost his head and tried to pick up the ball and return it. His broken hand handicapped him and he fumbled. A Michigan man pounced on the ball and the next play put it over.

While Marek must be praised for his general play and toughness in the game one asks how he could play two years of varsity football under intensive coaching without having instilled in his brain the procedure on a grounded punt.

After this play Eby was sent in. A few moments later he was faced with the same play and, playing heads up football, let the ball fall to the ground and come to rest without touching it.

A moment later he punted—one of the premier of the game—and it was his brilliant open field running and passing that helped send Ohio State to its last touchdown.

Thanks mainly to Eby Michigan was able to play a defensive game the last three or four minutes of play—actually wishing for the end of the game.

Michigan has a great team led by a great field general in Henry Friedman. But State also has a great team, estimating it on actual playing material.

Why, with the game the deciding one of the year for State, did Wiley let his team keep their old plays "in the bag" and not save Eby the greater part of the game—with defeat staring them in the face, are unanswered. And the other thought I have while Marek, who ended his career in the crisis, draw blame for the defeat in the archives, is that the coaches played a game that was not a game. How much were they to blame? Just how often do such errors occur in the big games—when blame falls on the players and not on the coaches?

Patsy's Patter
Gossip and Guesses in the World of Sport
By Pat Murphy

OHIO State will take the place of Harvard on the Princeton schedule next fall. This makes it look as though the break between the two eastern teams is a final one. While alumni associations and undergraduate bodies are making efforts to have the two teams bury the hatchet and resume athletic relations where they were broke off a week ago, the Princeton management is going ahead with its schedule making, ignoring Harvard. From here it looks as though this were another inter-sectional game which will be won by the western contestant.

There was when the winner of the series between Yale, Harvard and Princeton was looked upon as the football champion of the nation, and the tradition has been a long time dying. The three teams named still think that these are the three big games of the year, despite the fact that teams from the middle west are in the habit of going out and taking over all of the "Big Three." The breaking of relations between Harvard and Princeton will enable both of these teams to schedule games which will give an accurate line on where the real football supremacy rests. It is our hunch that the break will not last longer than two years. After the open dates on the two schedules are filled by "outsider" teams, and return games are played the following year, the breach will be healed, and the "Big Three" will go its merry way.

YOUNG Stribling, the Georgia
Bust who suffered such a setback in his match with Paul Berenbach last summer, is essaying a comeback. For the first step in his return to public favor, his astute father-manager, "Pa" Stribling, made the mistake of picking old Hatting Lovinsky as a setup. While Stribling won the fight on points, his inability to pull the old warhorse out does not boost his stock materially. Lovinsky was bringing the light heavyweight class into public notice when Stribling was still making mud pies. The old fighter was unfortunate as to weight. He was bigger than the middleweights, and smaller than the heavyweights, so he required the old title of light heavyweight champion, which had been in disuse since the days of Bob Fitzsimmons, and gave such fellows as Carpenter, McTigue and Gene Tunney something to build a reputation around. It was as light heavy champion that both Carpenter and Tunney first commanded serious consideration of the fight fans.

COLUMBUS is not the only Ohio city which has its wrestling shows. While Al Haft is putting on Charley Peterson and Ira Dern tonight in an elimination match for a crack at

City Cage Title Will Be Decided Next Wednesday Night In Star Auditorium

Midway Lunch Will Meet LaRue Five in Preliminary Contest; Rivalry Keen Between Two Teams Seeking Pennant; Close Game Expected

WITH only three more practice sessions before the first cage tilt of the season and the game which will decide the city championship of Marion for the present, Coach C. C. Silva of the Marion Knights of Columbus basketball squad today announced that his men were in the best of condition and all set for the initial test.

The championship game is scheduled for next Wednesday night in the Star Auditorium when the K. C. quintet will oppose Isaly Dairies. Incidentally, Isaly also open their home game season with

The Midway Lunches, composed of former Harding and St. Mary's High cage men, will meet the fast five from Boyd's Furniture Store of LaRue in the preliminary contest of the Isaly-K. C. game. It will be the first appearance of the Midway team.

Last year, Isaly won the battle with the K. C. crew by a score of 18 to 11, making the margin of points on free throws. Coach Silva's men expect to reverse the score next Wednesday.

Frank Korte, well-known among Marion basketball fans, will probably take the floor at center for the K. C. team in the first game. Scoop Irwin and Jerry Blockson look like the leading candidates for forward and C. Kruskamp and Nelson Irwin are expected to fill the guard positions.

Others who will get a chance to show their stuff in the fracas next Wednesday include William Shea and O'Brien, guards; Johnny Merkle, center; Tommy Andrews and Floyd Sheeler, forwards; and Bob O'Connell, general utility man.

Rivalry between the two teams has increased greatly during the past seasons and a peppy tilt is promised. Isaly opened their season Saturday night when they met defeat at the hands of the Lorain Lions on the Lorain court. Weaknesses developing during that contest have been patched up and the Dairies are all set for action.

The Midways will make their first public appearance against a team composed of some of the best players in the northern part of Marion County when they meet the Boyd Furniture crew. The team is composed of high school and professional stars in that section of the county.

With two great games scheduled, the opening bill of the basketball season in Marion promises thrills galore for the hundreds of fans in this city.

Pet Raccoon Visits Central Junior High School Building

COMMERCIAL and science classes at Central Junior High School turned to a study of natural history and raw materials yesterday afternoon, when David Sweitzer, 209 Windsor st., displayed a raccoon at the school. In these days of fur coats and the great scarcity of furs, the lesson probably was a valuable one. How to get a fur coat is rapidly becoming part of every girl's education, and how to provide for a big part of a boy's wardrobe.

Sweitzer was invited to bring the raccoon into the building.

"Billy," the raccoon, displayed no great interest in his surroundings, while he was being examined by the students. In fact he got sulky and refused to get off the desk in the science classroom. Sweitzer promises him, by making him walk on his hind legs, when he gets a silver streak. He has his front quarters off the ground by a chain attached to a leather collar around the raccoon's neck. "Billy" wears the strain of his throat by holding onto the chain with his front paws, while he waddles along on his short hind legs.

Sweitzer is thinking of starting a "coon farm." Billy is his first specimen. He is a year old, and has been in Sweitzer's possession for two months. Sweitzer is now looking around for a mate for "Billy" and a place to start the animal farm, where he can raise potential fur coats.

"Asleep in Jesus, blessed sleep from which none ever wake to weep." With the blessed assurance that he was going to Jesus our dear one left us early Friday morning, Nov. 5, 1929, after an illness of two weeks with heart trouble, at the age of 50 years, 10 months and 10 days.

He was born Dec. 20, 1869, near Wards in Marion County, the son of Peter Boger and Mary Strine Boger. He moved with his parents to Marion about 1880 where he worked at the stone and brick mason trade until two weeks before his death. He was married in 1895 to Margaret A. Stiller near Prospect, O., on June 10, 1900. This union was blessed with two daughters. He was baptized and confirmed in the Emanuel Lutheran Church April 12, 1903, by Rev. E. F. W. Stollhorn of which church he was a faithful and true member. He was a kind and affectionate husband and father and anxious to make their lives as perfect as possible.

With the kind assistance of neighbors and friends he was laid to rest in the Prospect cemetery Tuesday, Nov. 9, 1929, with services at the Emanuel Lutheran Church at Marion, Rev. Schilling using as his text the comforting words from Job 19:25-26, "I know that my Redeemer lives!"

I know that my Redeemer lives! What comfort, this sweet sentence gives!

He lives, He lives, who once was dead, He lives, my ever living Head.

He lives, all glory to His Name! He lives, my Jesus, still the same! O the sweet joy this sentence gives, I know that my Redeemer lives! 1-p
